ABOUT READY2LAUNCH

Che - Ready2Launch Founder

Che - Our Founder

I started designing websites back in 2006. In 2012, I moved to Western Australia with my family, and that is when I started CheDesigns. I wanted to help get local businesses online around Albany, Western Australia. I have steadily built up a good client base of medium to small businesses offering professional and affordable website design. In 2014 I started to notice a change in the web design industry where small businesses needed an out-of-the-box website solution that would help them get online more quickly and cheaply whilst gaining an online presence.

That is when I started thinking about Ready2Launch and knew I needed to come up with an affordable solution to solve these problems. In 2016 after lots of research and mind bending hours, I went live with my idea. Ready2Launch offers a quick and affordable website but ensures it is built around the businesses branding.

I have just had my web site built by Che at Ready2Launch and cannot be more pleased. Ready2Launch had me on-line in no time, very easy to work with and I can do all the editing to my web site myself, when and if I need to. Plenty of training to help people who are not tech savvy, that's me! Plus, a really good price, especially if you are a small business or just starting up. Well worth giving them a call!
