Ballarat Manufacturing

We pride ourselves on manufacturing locally in Ballarat which enables us to guarantee the quality of the workmanship. If we cant manufacture locally we only source Australian Manufactured products. Taylor and Stirling customers have the peace of mind of knowing they are dealing directly with the manufacturer and can expect a professional and reliable service.

The History of Our Building

We moved into our new retail space in November 2013. The building has been part of the Ballarat retail scene since the early 1850's. It was initially one of many local Iron Mongers, then they moved into Motor Cycles & Cycles, with the "Ballarat" motor cycle being built on the premises. A petrol browser was a fixture for many years allowing cars and motor cycles to fill up out the front. In the late 1940's it became the Malvern Star shop. For many years it was the location of the The Courier printing press (being the home to the first colour printing press outside of Melbourne) and photo developing labs upstairs. The WoolShop for a few years, then a Car Audio sales and installation.

As you can see, we have an extensive selection of products that can make your home or establishment safer, more secure and undeniably attractive. With so many different products and product styles to choose from, the selection process can sometimes feel overwhelming. That's we encourage anyone interested in exploring their options to contact us – either by calling us or filling out the form on this page.

Roller blinds (Holland blinds) are always popular as they can provide a clean, stylish & contemporary look. It is the classic simplicity of roller blinds that continues to make them a preferred choice.

- They offer the convent choice of blackout, translucent (light filtering), sunscreen. Modern roller blinds see a mixture of with either dual roller blinds or roller blind combined with elegance of sheer curtains. We increasingly see a range of textured fabric being purchased to provide a softer feel to the traditional roller blind.

- Modern roller blinds can be customised with an endless variety of additions, including scalloped finishes, fabric inserts and bonded fabrics. One of the most functional ways of managing heat and light, your roller blinds can provide total sun blackout or allow filtered light into your rooms. It is not only the functionality that makes roller blinds so appealing; the clean, uncluttered look at your windows that makes its own style statement. Please drop into our showroom in Ballarat or call us to discuss how we can provide a roller blinds solution to suit your home.
