

MAC INSPECT

BUILDING INSPECTOR

For 14 year Matthew has been part of the building industry. As a 3rd generation builder, Matthew has spent many years building and reviewing works carried out. After many years, he has seen that the need for more consumer protection and education is critical more than ever. Not just when construction is underway. But at the start of the process, when selecting your future home. He has a real passion for property and construction alike. It is his belief that the only way to make the industry better is to be part of the group of professionals to make it happen.

You can be sure that with MAC Inspect in your corner, to help you in your purchase decision making process, you will have the best tools and professional inspection report, to give you clarity and peace of mind.

Which is why we say, our inspection is your security.

OUR PURPOSE

To be part of the change, to make the industry better, by holding those responsible accountable for their actions, and protect the vulnerable.
