

Who We Are?

EziCleen

Protective Coatings

EziCleen is a trade mark protected company and is 100% Australian owned and operated. We had our humble beginnings in 1992. Since then we have developed a reputation for delivering revolutionary surface treatments along with maintaining superior levels of customer service. All EziCleen applicators in Australia hold professional accreditation to apply Diamon-Fusion® Surface Products and the extensive range of Sure Seal® Stone Sealer Products.

Just like you, we are concerned about the welfare and future of our environment. We only seek out and select the latest environmentally friendly technologies that deliver you and our planet the best results. Choosing EziCleen means you'll be helping the environment by avoiding the use of harsh toxic chemicals and minimising your carbon footprint.

We aim to deliver superior customer service and consistent results for everyone, every time. In fact, our business is built on ethical service standards with the majority of our work coming from customer referrals, further evidence of our superior service.

Why You Should Choose EziCleen To Protect Your Surfaces

Ethical

Ezicleen is a proud member of The Green Building Council of Australia, we continually research and identify only the safest and most effective surface treatment products that are available in the international market place.

Customer Focused

Ezicleen is all about our customers, up to 80% of our surface applications are from customer referrals. This is a great testament to our superior service.

Award Winning Product

Ezicleen has secured the exclusive Australian application rights for Diamon-Fusion® Protective Coatings. Diamon-Fusion® is patented world wide and has won many awards and accolades on the international stage.
