

Colour Consultancy MGE Painting Painters & Decorators

Colour Consultancy

Create the perfect harmony for your home or workplace.

Having difficulty selecting colours from the tiny paint swatches?

We know choosing the right colour can sometimes feel impossible. We can suggest ideas to create a fantastic colour scheme from our years of experience. MGE painting have a palette of some personal favourite colour combinations they can also share. Colour trends and techniques can be really important to the overall desired outcome of your home, outdoor entertaining or work place.

What is a colour consultation?

Colour, colour, colour all sounds so easy until you look and see just how many variations of white , yellow, green, beige and so on. Yes, this is when it begins to become a challenge. Your initial preferred colour scheme can sometimes be a surprise when you see it on a larger scale.

We at MGE painting can lend a friendly hand and provide you with colour solutions or help minimise the colour samples laid upon your bench right now, A consultation can usually build a small portfolio of colour looking at the surface, different light and the shape of the room. Choosing successful colours to a desired area, is crucial to the end result. The transformation can be very exciting, and a wonderful feeling accomplishing your desired result.

Interior decorating advice

If you've ever admired someone else's colour scheme but, haven't quite had the confidence or experience to try it on your own, you may require some expert advice and guidance.

Choosing successful paint colours is crucial to the end result, the transformation of colour can be unbelievable. A fantastic complimentary colour scheme, softened with carpets or simply a rug, art and some small home decor pieces can all bring a special innovative new and unique mood to your space.

Your home should be a haven of many emotions allowing you to feel the ability to rest and play, a place you look forward to returning to each time you leave. Your workplace providing a welcoming feel, encouraging creativity, productivity, inspiration and communication. Often colours are chosen featuring a combination of business or corporate colours.

When space, light and colour work successfully together, a space becomes so much more than its structure. It becomes an active part of your daily living / working life. Colour can set the scene elegance, chic, retro, modern, contemporary all improves the areas quality and brings greater peace of mind.

If you could create your ideal experience, how would you want it to make you feel?

Every building is brought to life by the people who use it. Our passion is to create work and living experiences that improve your quality of life by the sensuality of emotion. Begin with your favourite colours that make you feel peaceful or inspire you, you will be surprised how it opens your eyes and a clearer picture of colour and its purpose is painted in your mind. Every person, family, home and business is unique.

Our consultation takes you through a small checklist which ensures your ideas are brought forward, it's important we create your dream. Why settle for ordinary when you can create a space that elevates both mood and productivity.

Colour for positive results

- The right choices of colour lift property value by visually changing the size, shape, proportion and light levels of architecture in buildings.
- The feelings colour gives people can heighten productivity of your staff by reducing absenteeism and increasing work environment satisfaction.
- Increase customer awareness by using the right colours to promote yourself and your business.
- Background colour can be very powerful boosting your signage, stationery and advertising messages to keep existing clients interested and attract new customers to your business.
- Colour can be a positive enhancing way to create an image, colour can be associated with many brands and messages and can also display your innovation and satisfaction for improvements
- Support the health and well-being of you and your family using pleasant, dramatic or refreshing choices of colour