About Us

Located in Sydney, Australia, we specialise in the supply and design of all types of signage throughout Australia. We are able to satisfy clients' national signage requirements through associated offices located in all states.

The company was incorporated in 1989 and has extensive knowledge of the sign industry and its available products by visiting both local and international exhibitions.

Harley Harwood

Harley Harwood, Principal.

Our clients see Signtech as a company which is able to supply and manage all of their sign requirements. The list of our long standing clients is testimony to our high quality products, service and timeliness.

The principal of Signtech Australia is Harley Harwood who has occupied senior management positions with large international companies prior to his involvement in the sign industry and is well qualified to manage large sign projects.

Harley has owned a sign design and manufacturing company for over ten years and has extensive knowledge of all types of signage.

Our product range

We have a diverse range of signage solutions to suit your requirements. Signtech pays as much attention to detail and service for a $250 sign as it does for a $250,000 sign.

Large Format - Continuous Image

One of our newest products at Signtech, digitally printed, high resolution graphics and signs are fast becoming a very popular choice to deliver the message and reinforce a brand.

The ability to create high impact, short run, large format signs in unlimited colours, simply and economically make digitally printed signs a great option for all businesses both large and small.

Digitally printed artist canvas and clear vinyl film for your offices can capture attention and inform your audience with high impact photographic images, sure to catch the eye and deliver that "wow" factor.
