Eco Friendly Cleaning Materials

A lot of household cleaning products contain harmful toxic chemicals such as formaldehyde, phenol, ammonia, ethanol, butane, propane to name just a few.

There a lot of natural cleaning products out there that can be found everywhere and are very economical.

Microfiber Clothes

These cloths are a great alternative to cleaning with chemicals. It can be used to remove smudged dirt, stains and grease just by applying water to it. It can also be used to scrub dirt in appliances, cleaning of interiors of cars, glasses and windows.

Microfiber Mop

You only need to apply water to obtain the same level of cleanliness as using mop with chemicals if not better.

Vinegar

Vinegar is popular and extremely effective as a cleaning and sanitizing agent. It is economical and harmless to humans. You can use to clean kitchen surfaces, mirrors, glasses and even appliances such as microwaves.

Baking Soda

Baking Soda as a natural cleaning agent. It's economical and non-toxic.

Citrus Oil Solution

Citrus oils are not only good for cleaning but can help in getting rid of odour from a place. It can be used as a degreaser because of its solvent properties. Citrus solution can also be used as natural insecticides and pesticides at homes or in your offices.
