Things You'd Like to Know From The Referrals

When asking for referrals, be sure to check the type of jobs the painter was called into accomplish and compare that to the type of painting work that you have in mind for your house.

Would you hire this painter again?

If you get a "no", then stop...and ask why? Is this a good reason or irrational nor logical.

How happy were you with the quality of work performed by this painting contractor? On a scale of 1 to 10 (10 being highest),

Everyone has an opinion of quality workmanship, so you may want to see the work for yourself to make sure your perception matches with your friends.

Did the painting contractor protect unpainted surfaces, furniture, floors, or other such areas in their home?

For exteriors, this includes concrete, roofing, and plantings. For interiors, moving and protecting furniture is a major concern.

Make sure not to forget about the flooring because you may live to regret it! If a painter is sloppy with one customer, chances are, they will be sloppy in your home.

You may want to visit a site where work is currently in progress to see how the painter conducts his business.

Were they courteous and polite to you, their customer (and your neighbors)?

If the answer is "no" then do NOT go any further, because you don't want to work with this company.

Does your contractor offer a clearly worded, written warranty (Satisfaction Guarantee) included in the price and the written proposal?

A good painter is always glad to stand behind his warranty, no Questions asked.
